ACIL

AMERICAN COUNCIL OF INDEPENDENT LABORATORIES

Sponsorship Guide

79th Annual Meeting

Hilton St. Louis at the Ballpark

September 26 – 29, 2016

ACIL

ACIL is the trade association representing independent, commercial, scientific and testing laboratories. Its members are professional services firms engaged in testing, product certification, consulting, and research and development. Affiliated membership is available to manufacturers' laboratories, consultants and suppliers to the industry and related trade associations.

ACIL defines independent scientific and engineering services firms as commercial entities engaged in analysis, testing, inspection, materials engineering, sampling, product certification, research and development and related consulting services for the public. They are not affiliated with any institution, company, or trade group that might affect their ability to conduct investigations, render reports, or give professional, objective and unbiased counsel.

Vision:

To be recognized as the leader advancing the interests of the testing industry.

Mission:

To enhance members' success by:

- Providing advocacy, education, service, and mutual support
- Promoting quality, ethics, independence, objectivity, and free enterprise

Membership Demographics:

- More than 150 member companies throughout the U.S.
- Represents more than 2,000 facilities
- Represents more than $2B in annual revenues
- Represents the lab owners and senior managers
- Employs thousands of quality lab technicians and the industry continues to grow
- Represents more than 75% of the independent commercial environmental testing in the U.S.
